Weather Change Puts the Kibosh on Harvest 250 Teams Arrow 5-1/2 Tons of Fish – Lowest in 34 Years

CASEVILLE, MI – If you are any kind of fisherman, you’ve heard countless times, “Ya shoulda been here yesterday!” Well, the few hot sunny days leading up to the 34th Annual Great Lakes Bowfishing Championship (GLBC) in Caseville, MI were the “yesterday”. Many of the two-man teams from as far away as Arkansas, North Carolina and Texas were licking their proverbial chops when they pre-scouted the local Saginaw Bay waters. The fish were in thick! “Going to be a banner year”, many thought out loud.

The goal of these bowfishermen was to reap as many carp and other rough fish as possible during the two-day shoot, using the tools of their trade... bow and arrow. The temperature dropped 40 degrees the day before the event! The question then was, were the fish still going to be there when the teams took to the water early Saturday morning?

From its humble beginnings in 1984, the GLBC has grown to become one of the largest, most prestigious bowfishing tournaments in the nation. This year’s event sold out at 250 teams more than a week before the event! The potential for tremendous bowfishing action, as well as the local hospitality and unparalleled camaradery of the participants has continued to draw this group of sportsmen back to Caseville for nearly three-and-a-half decades. With the strong support of industry sponsors like Muzzy, AMS Bowfishing, Bohning Co., Bass Pro Shops, Tracker Boats and SCI-Southeast Michigan Bowhunters Chapter, you can expect this great tradition to continue for years to come.

Spring time traditionally beckons the annual onslaught of spawning carp to the bay’s shallow waters where they can fall prey to crafty archers sporting bowfishing gear. When the weather and timing align perfectly, the numbers of carp can be incredible.

Over the past 33 years these contestants have broken the previous World Record for the most fish harvested by bow set in California twenty times! They currently hold the world mark at an astounding 278,871 pounds of what most consider “trash” fish!

Brayden Smith and Clayton Steinman of Pigeon, MI accept their Great Lakes Bowfishing Championship trophies from tournament organizer Bob Easterbrook, Jr. The championship team managed to arrow 816 pounds of rough fish during the two-day contest under difficult conditions.

As is customary, the tournament kicked off early Saturday morning at the Wallace Stone Quarry, the tournament’s weigh-in site situated just outside of Bayport. A throng of over 500 bowfishermen and women assembled in the cool morning hours to register and prepare for the send-off. Several of the two-person teams hosted a third “youth shooter” to help carry on the tradition and promote family participation.

The morning dawned quite chilly and a bit breezy as 250 vehicles were crouched and ready to spring into action the moment their team numbers were randomly drawn. Most were trucks with trailers sporting a wide variety of unusually-outfitted watercraft ranging from canoes to flat-bottomed john boats to large prop-driven airboats. Some resembled UFO’s more than boats. The teams were well prepared for the task at hand of harvesting and transporting rough fish such as carp, garpike, dogfish and goldfish with their archery equipment and assorted rigs.

Shortly after 8 a.m. the teams were scrambling about Saginaw Bay’s shoreline from Caseville to Bay City in search of these non-indigenous “trash” fish. They toiled in the bay’s shallows and islands, as well as the adjacent canals & rivers attempting to haul in as many fish as possible prior to the 5 p.m. deadline.

After nine hours of competition the teams rolled back into the scales to have their catches tallied. It was evident that the intense cold front did its damage as the teams rolled through the scales quickly. Too quickly. The competitors were only able to arrow 7,665 pounds. A measly amount by typical standards. The fish were loaded via heavy equipment into a large dump truck destined to become quality organic fertilizer.

According to Michigan DNR biologists, removal of these fish from the bay provide many benefits. These invasive species to Michigan's waters destroy and damage critical spawning and nesting habitat for game fish and waterfowl. Thinning out the carp's prolific numbers provides a boost to Saginaw Bay's native wildlife species, which in turn aids the local economies. So organizers were certainly hoping for a better take.

A large number of Caseville & Bayport area businesses sponsor cash awards for the two largest carp taken each day – a big favorite with the shooters. Saturday's winners were Enoch Loulas, of Chesterfield, with a huge 32.35-pound "hawg" sporting a $10-per-pound prize; and Don Duncan III of Lake, with a dandy 26.15-pounder taking the $5-per-pound second place prize.

Last year the prize money for other largest fish species was doubled to $200, plus awarded for each of the two days, in effect quadrupling the pot. The big winners on Saturday were Brian Park, of Holly, with a nice 3.85 pound gar pike. Jake Stewart, of Otter Lake, took Largest Goldfish honors with a fat 2.95 pound specimen. Alan Chritz, of Hemlock, collected on the Largest Dogfish prize with a big 6.85-pound fish. And Danielle Gajewski, of Clinton Twp., arrowed a hotdog-like 1.25-pounder to garner the challenging Smallest Gar award.

During the evening hours many participants enjoyed a delicious dinner buffet, cold beer, raffles, door prizes and fish stories at tourney headquarters under the big top outside the Wooded Island Sports Grill in Caseville. Others settled into the local establishments for food, drink and fun to cap off a long day on the water. Then it was time to rest and recharge for round two.

Sunday morning brought slightly warmer temperatures, raising hopes that the some fish may have returned to the shallows overnight. The shooters took to the water at 7 a.m. with energy and enthusiasm, hoping to make up some ground on Saturday's slow performance.

By the 2 p.m. deadline, the weary archers filed through the 14 weigh stations even quicker than the day before. Not a good sign. The fish were uncooperative for a second day. Participants only managed to arrow another 3,235 pounds, bringing the weekend's total to 11,076 pounds! It was the lowest harvest per team in the tournament's 34 year history. A bit disappointing, but fun was still had by all.

In the end it was the team of Brayden Smith and Clayton Steinman, of Pigeon, MI and sponsored by On The Bay Guide Service, claiming the title of Great Lakes Bowfishing Champions. The pair managed to arrow and haul in a very respectable 816 pounds of rough fish in two challenging days on the water!

Taking second place honors with 534 pounds was Steve and Rick Collins of Lake Orion, along with youth participant Hunter. Third place with 456 pounds went to Trent Karcher, of Remus, and his partner Michael Lehmkuhle, of Mt, Pleasant.

Cash prizes were also awarded to the remaining top 20 teams, as well as others who didn't place near the top, like the "Average Joe" prize (see sidebar, page 6).

Sunday's "Big Carp" honors went to Jacob Messenger, of Lapeer, with a tournament-topping 34.60-pound behemoth! Luke Dinnan, of Midland, took second place with a stout 28.55-pounder.

The other "Big Fish" award-winners included Chris Lockard and Victor Charlie, of Perry, who tag-teamed on a huge 8.45-pound gar pike. At the other end of the spectrum was Caleb Wielock with a wee-sized 1.55-pound gar pike. Cody Lisowski, of Kalamazoo, collected Largest Goldfish honors by arrowing a 2.65-pound specimen. And Jake Cramer, of Gobles, claimed the Largest Dogfish prize tipping the scales with a chunky 7.05-pound bowfin.

Aside from providing a lot of recreational fun for hundreds of sportsmen and ridding the bay of tons of destructive "trash" fish, the tournament's primary goal was achieved. Organizers raised thousands of dollars for the Wildlife Education Foundation -- a non-profit volunteer organization whose primary mission is to get kids involved in the great outdoors.

Over the past 34 years, the foundation has been responsible for hosting Hunter Safety Camps for over 1,700 youth (www.scibowhunters.org/s-h-a-p-2); supporting The Salvation Army Outdoors (www.salmich.org/emi//TSAO) and Center Shot Ministries (www.centershot.org) youth programs; the Wildlife Recovery Association birds of prey education and rehabilitation programs (www.wildliferecovery.org/); and putting over 62,000 campers through the Sleeper State Park Outdoor Center before its closure. These Michigan kids have been afforded the opportunity to appreciate the outdoors, learn about environmental respect & wildlife conservation and experience shooting sports & firearms safety. Thanks to the success of this tournament and the generosity of its supporters, the foundation will continue to ensure that kids who want to experience Michigan's great outdoors will have that opportunity.

"I would like to thank our generous supporters," said tournament founder Bob Easterbrook, Sr. "Our wonderful sponsors, the local area businesses, Wallace Stone Quarry, our prize donors and of course our supportive tournament participants. The foundation and the kids who benefit from it are extremely grateful for the opportunities that they help afford. It's great to see so many people come together, have this much fun and do so much good. I thank all of you for your incredible 34 years of outstanding support!"

G.L.B.C. Notables

AVERAGE JOE'S

A $400 prize is awarded each year to the team that harvests closest to the average weight per team. The average for 2017 was a meager 44.3 pounds... the lowest in tournament history. But the run-o-the-mill tandem of Kasey Bulemore, of Bancroft, and Jesse Hurst of Bath, made the best of it by arrowing 44 pounds of fish - earning them the title of "2017 Average Joes". Congratulations on your hard-fought "average" performance Team #147! It wasn't an easy task this year!

THANK YOU!

We owe a great deal of gratitude to a fantastic cast of supporting people, businesses and organizations.

- ☞ Our generous sponsors, Muzzy Products, AMS Bowfishing, Bohning Co., Bass Pro Shops, Tracker Boats and SCI-Southeast Michigan Bowhunters Chapter, who all help make this the nation's premier bowfishing tournament!
- ☞ Wallace Stone Quarry and the wonderful staff led by Eric Gardy who shared their great facility with us, made us feel right at home and put up with our little bit of chaos for a couple of days.
- ☞ Dave & Sue Bouck and the good people at Wooded Island Sports Grill in Caseville for hosting our evening gatherings!
- ☞ Rod Heck and crew from Hot Rod's Bar-B-Que & Catering of Elkton for keeping the troops well fed and refreshed.
- ☞ The dozens of Caseville & Bayport Area Businesses that pledged a dollar-per-pound for the largest carp of the tournament to sponsor the Big Fish Awards -- a huge favorite with many of our repeat participants!
- ☞ WLEW-AM Radio of Bad Axe and Eddie Fury for broadcasting live from our event, promoting our supporters and attracting spectators to our "must-see" weigh-in.
- ☞ Our exceptional GLBC Staff of over 30 hard-working, helpful volunteers who travel from all over the Midwest to lend a hand for the long weekend.

Without all these generous people and businesses, this great bowfishing tournament would be just another carp shoot. We thank you, as do the kids who get to enjoy the outdoors this year!

We're looking forward to continuing the tradition and working with everyone to make our 35th annual event even bigger and better. We have some Young Easton was the grand raffle prize winner on Sunday morning. He was exuberant, to say the least, with his new AMS E-Rad Bowfishing Bow package! We've never seen so many people cheer after a raffle drawing before. Just awesome!
